Allowing Remote Assistance on the Accent

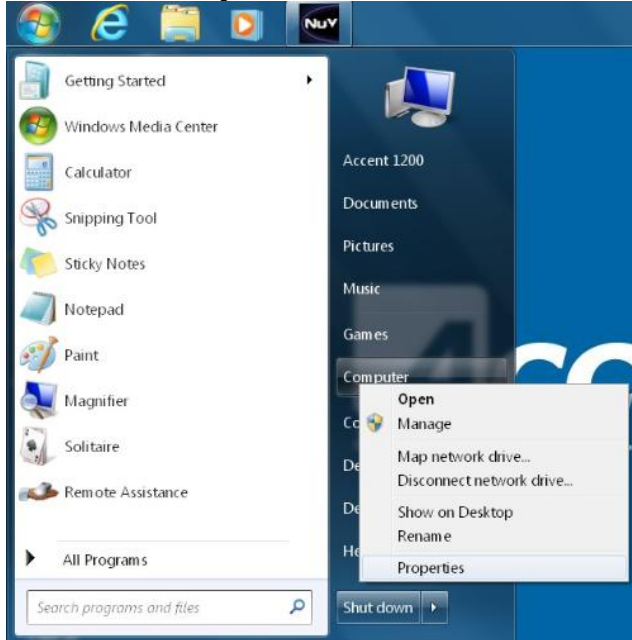

The Accent uses Microsoft Easy Connect to allow for Remote Assistance. In order to do this you will require access to email either on the Accent or a PC/laptop, and possibly a mouse and keyboard for easier access in Windows.

Minimise the NuVoice Application

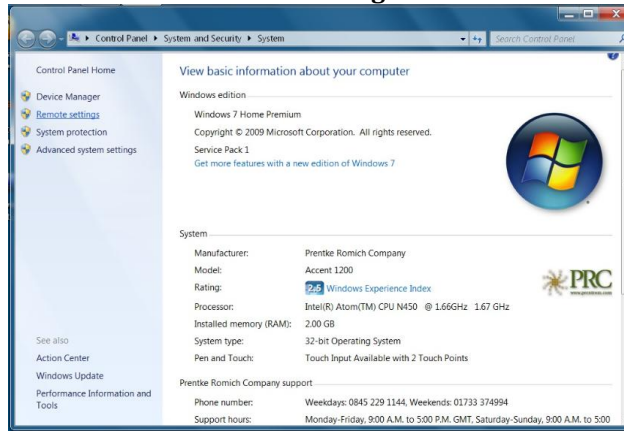

1. Press the Tools key
2. Select the Hide/Show NuVoice from the on-screen user keys

In Windows

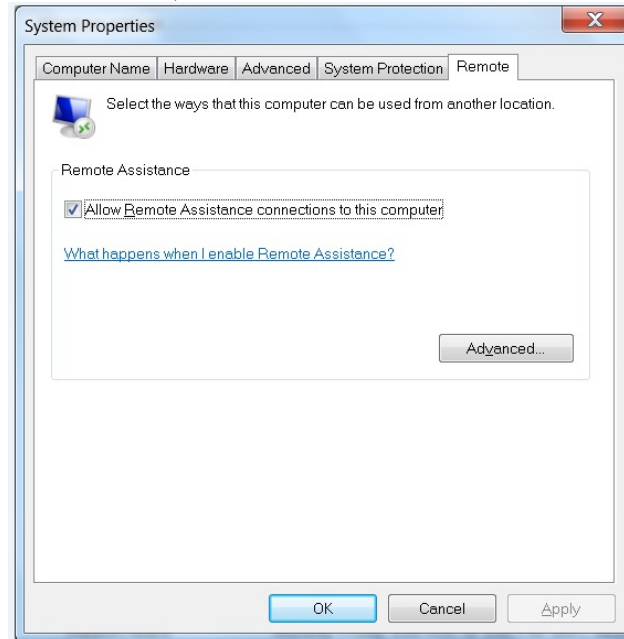

1. Go To Start
2. Right click on Computer
3. Select Properties

4. Click on Remote settings

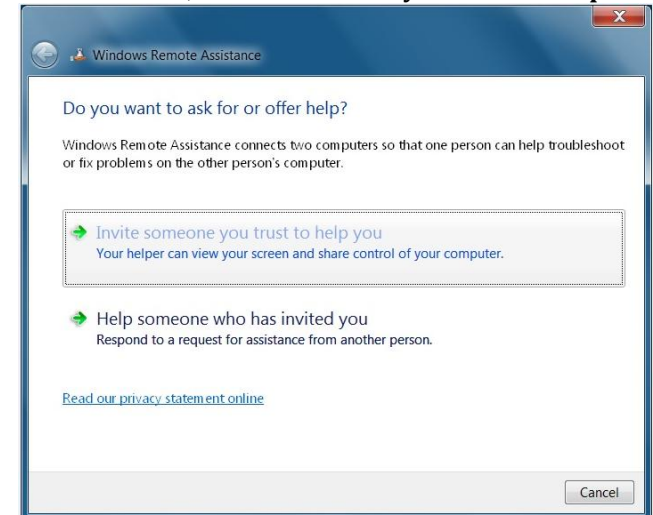

5. Ensure that the box, 'Allow Remote Assistance Connections to the Computer' is ticked, then click OK.

6. Go to Start again
7. In the Search Box, type "Windows Remote Assistance"
8. Click on Windows Remote Assistance

9. Select, "Invite someone you trust to help"

10. Select, “Save this invitation as a file (to email)”.

11. The screen will display the Remote Assistance Window informing you that it is awaiting for an incoming connection. Do not close this Window, wait for your ‘Helper’ to access your Accent!

- 12. Using your personal email, email the invite and Password to your ‘Helper’. You may access your email from the Accent or another PC.
- 13. Once the email is received and the invitation link ‘clicked-on’, your device should inform you that your ‘Helper’ would like access to your PC. Select YES to accept

14. Your device will inform you that your “Helper” is able to see your desktop.

15. Your ‘Helper’ will request to, “Share control of your desktop.” Select Yes.

16. You are able to terminate Remote Assistance at anytime during the session by selecting, Stop Sharing.
